Four years ago
Elk Grove High School was just a blueprint. It emerged on a barren field from skeletons of steel into the Elk Grove High School
we know today.
How could we forget—for

... Elk Grove H

School, you are my school . . .

... let me sing your praise ...

Although Elk Grove High School has only been in existence for four years, Grenadiers have brought much honor to our school. These honors include not only the accomplishments but also the enthusiasm with which Grenadiers say Homecoming was the one activity of the year that included both past and present Grenadiers. Its excitement and suspense was felt not only by the candidates but by the student body as well. We remember spirit week, coronation, the parade, and La Fete, These are our ... memories ... how they linger and grow ...

Elk Grove is one of the few schools that can boast a campus made by nature as well as by man. Our spring and fall sports are performed against a background of colorful foliage. Elk Grove, often referred to as the garden spot of District 214, was established

... by the forest

decked in all its splendor . . .

Sports, a major activity of Elk Grove High School, provides its students with year-round athletic entertainment. Each individual team tries its hardest to be worthy of Grenadier Spirit. In our victories and despite our defeats

... Grenadiers through our joys and tears we'll be . . .

After four years of academic growth,
Elk Grove High School
boasts the largest student and faculty enrollment in District 214.
Though our halls are crowded, our accomplishments are many. We are proud as we walk down our ... halls of learning . . .

Looking back on our high school years, we remember many memorable experiences.
Among these remembrances are the Senior Prom and Graduation.
We will treasure these memories as long as we live. The days are gone, but we have our

... memories how we cherish these today

We were the Seniors, that was very clear

The Senior class of 1970 has the honor of being the first class to go through all four years at EGHS. During these four years the class of '70 has earned the reputation of having leadership and responsibility. Our responsibility started as Freshmen when we sponsored a fun night which brought in that year's largest crowd and profit.

As Sophomores we sponsored the turn-about, "Spring Fever," and won the canned food drive. Our reward for winning was having the Senior president eat raw asparagus.

In our Junior year we won the canned food drive again. With eagerness and spirit we sponsored the Powder Puff football game and the most wonderful night of the year, the Prom, "Cherish."

In our Senior year, our leadership and responsibility reached their peak. We showed spirit by building the Queen's float and winning first prize for the stationary float at Homecoming. We also presented "Frosted Fantasy."

Senior Sue Swanson once predicted that we would succeed "as long as there was a hint of spirit and determination." For the class of '70, "it was not a hint but a shout."

This stationary float describes our rise to graduation.

'71 were recognized as tomorrow's leaders

The Junior class, living under the motto "'71 topped by none," has had a successful and prosperous year. Under the leadership of President Jeff McKelvey, Vice-President Karen O'Leary, Secretary Diane Rasmussen, and Treasurer Dean Bastounes, they have fulfilled all of their many plans.

Sponsoring various dances along with several other activities, they raised money for their class treasury. They got off to a good start by sponsoring the annual Kick-off Dance, which turned out to be one of the biggest successes yet.

The class of '71 displayed their school and class spirit during Homecoming week by selling Grenadier buttons and '71 class pins. Other activities they participated in were the Powder Puff football game at Fun Night and selling concessions at football and basketball games.

The creativity of the class was shown through their magnificent production of the Junior-Senior Prom, with the theme "A Time for Us." It will truly be remembered throughout the coming years.

"Spirit" is a key word for the class of '71, for they are full of the pep and energy which they have displayed through all their activities.

Class worked toward '71 prom

Throughout the course of the Grenadier's 1969-70 school year, the unified voices of the class of '72 seemed to dominate "Victory Comp" during the din at our pep rallies. The Sophomore class has also shown its growing spirit and enthusiasm for Elk Grove High School by its participation in various school-sponsored activities. Among these many activities, the class of '72 sponsored the annual turnabout dance on November 15, 1969. "Come Together" proved to be a great success for all who attended it. In a school-wide competition, the Sophomores won a paper drive whose proceeds contributed to the large bonfire during the Homecoming weekend. Spirit was displayed by members of the class when they wore green and gold '72 buttons during Spirit Week.

This year the Sophomore class was led by President Chuck Carroll, Vice-President Laura Camodeca, Secretary Linn Austin, and Treasurer Sue Keegan. Members of the class board, in cooperation with class sponsors, helped in planning the activities. The main goal of the class was to earn money for the Junior-Senior prom which they will sponsor next year.

Class of '73 got into the swing of things

From their first days in the halls of Elk Grove, the Freshman class, headed by President Michaelene Romano, Vice-President Annette Serges, Secretary Therese Huber, and Treasurer Liz Heimos, have shown that they are worthy of the title "Grenadier."

Throughout the year the Freshman class participated in several activities. During the week of Homecoming, the class of '73 showed their spirit by wearing Freshman green and gold ribbons, which they made and sold. They participated in the Fun Night by raffling off a stuffed whale. Freshmen also sponsored a mixer and sold concessions during basketball games.

With the will to pursue their goals, the Freshman class continued on with big plans for their future years at Elk Grove High School.

The Social Science Department emphasized student involvement in civil affairs. Many classes participated in the writing of a new Illinois constitution, which was presented at the Con Con Convention. The fast United States History classes were taught without the aid of textbooks. This approach gave students a chance to view several movies and refer to other books that were located in the well-equipped resource center. In order to promote student awareness of current events, the Department presented a leader of militant blacks, Mr. Otis Hyde, who discussed the problem of racism in the United States.

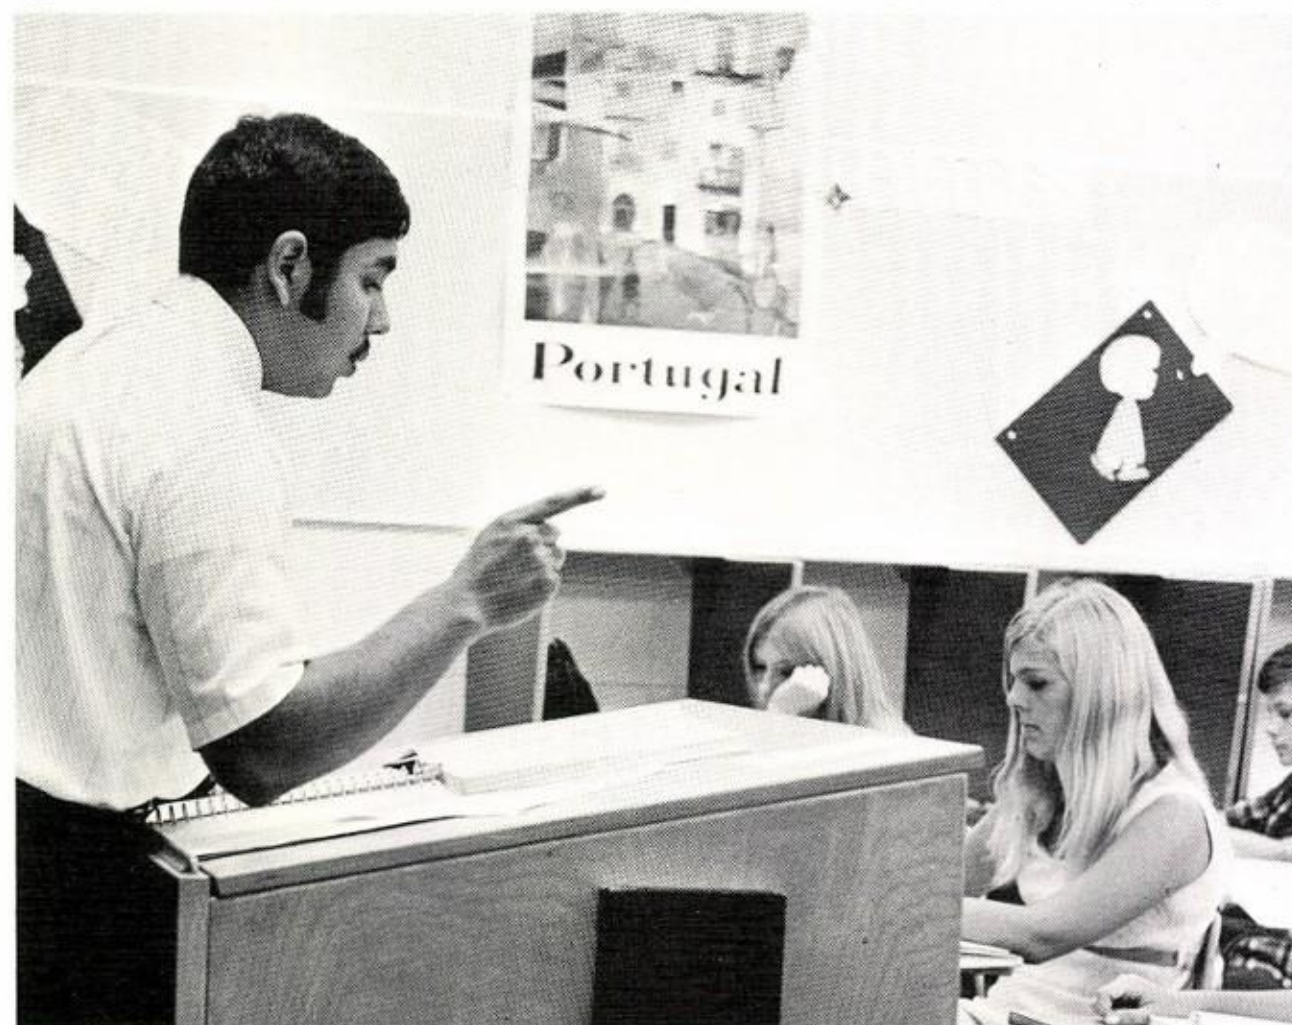

The Foreign Language Department offered students the opportunity to increase their ability to learn dialogue, vocabulary, sentence structure, and grammar through the use of tapes and books. The laboratory center's facilities gave students, especially those involved in independent study, a chance to improve their learning efficiency. This year's Pan-Language Banquet proved to be a huge success as students enjoyed many foreign dishes.

As part of its Year of Excellence emphasis, the English Department geared its diversified program to fit the immediate needs of individual students. The traditional core of the curriculum consisted of four courses, English I, English II, English III, and English IV. All courses included grammar, literature, and composition. However, sophomores were required to take one semester of speech along with one semester of team-taught literature. Seniors had an opportunity to select from Theme-X, Cre-X, English Literature, and Contemporary Literature as one-semester offerings. Other electives were streamlined to meet the interests of individual students in drama, stage production, and persuasive speech.

In order to carry out its academic emphasis of reading well and deeply, the English Department established a reading center that offered a number of different course opportunities, some for credit and some without credit. The reading center was equipped with several kinds of machines designed to improve reading skills, textbooks and workbooks, testing materials, and a library of more than 1,000 paperbound books. Through its offerings, students learned to gain satisfaction and understanding from materials read.

Recipients of honors during the Year of Excellence included many contributors to e.g., a student publication, and winners of several contests.

Math-Science Dept. installed new equipment

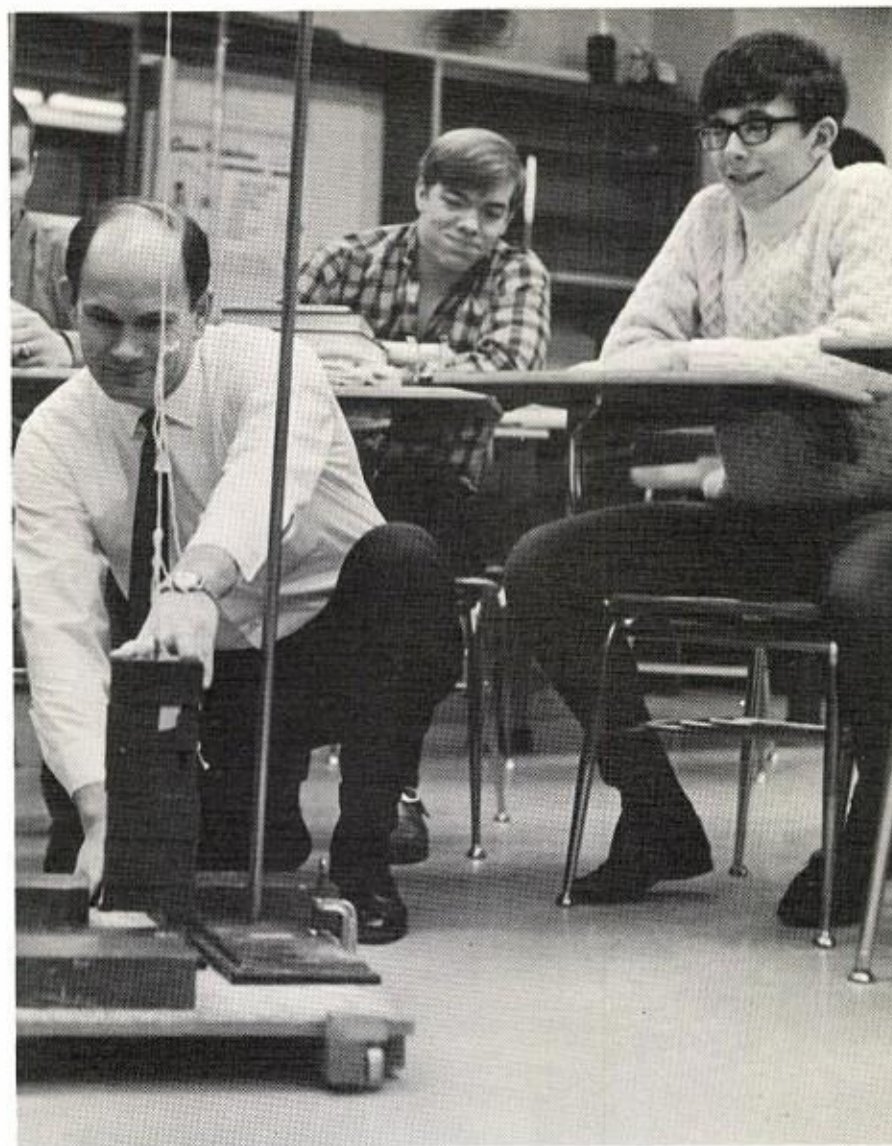

Physical science teacher Mr. Titre explains an intricate theory to his class.

This year the Math-Science Division installed an Audio Tutorial Center and six new laboratories, developed to aid biology students who were having difficulty comprehending written lab procedures. The Center contained audio-visual equipment supplied with tapes that corresponded to the biology textbook. The machines resembled television sets. Senior botany-zoology students discovered that the three small machines were designed to individualize instruction on lab techniques as students studied with earphones. A single larger machine gave silent demonstrations of dissections and scientific properties. Many students at a time viewed the films. Mimeographed explanation sheets that corresponded to the lesson being watched were available. The Audio Tutorial Center allowed absent students to make up their class lessons. It also gave students an opportunity to review old lectures. The students who participated in the S.I.S. program found the Center advantageous. Elk Grove High School was the first school in District 214 to have an Audio Tutorial Center. In addition, the new labs that were installed gave our school more labs than any other school in the District. Each science room contained a lab.

The varied objectives of the Practical Arts Division included general education, occupational exploration, career information, and pre-vocational training along with vocational education in the subject matter areas of business, home economics, and industrial education.

Students were prepared for specific entry occupations in the fields of marketing, office occupations, and accounting. General education activities of primary stress were those dealing with consumer problems. They were designed to enable students effectively execute their own business affairs and participate in our society.

In addition to preparing students to become successful homemakers, the Division emphasized related occupational areas. A new cooperative education course prepared students for entry occupations in food management, home decoration, fashion coordination, and child care.

In connection with industrial education, the Division offered general courses for personal use and for allowing students the opportunity to determine areas of interest. Vocational courses led students into beginning positions in carpentry, drafting, electronics, metals, and power mechanics.

In the future, pre-engineering experience will be offered in cooperation with the Science-Math Division.

"Go, you chicken fat, go! . . ." On many occasions these words were enthusiastically shouted in our gymnasium as students wholeheartedly exercised to recorded instructions. They tried to maintain their physical fitness through strenuous activity in the games of basketball, volleyball, football, soccer, tennis, archery, field hockey, and gymnastics. The P.E. classes participated in co-ed sports in addition to the traditional physical education curriculum.

The Choral Music Department of Elk Grove High School progressed noticeably during this Year of Excellence. The Choir, Girls' Glee, and the Freshmen Girls' and Boys' Choruses earned a medal of identity after they toured many junior high and grade schools. The traditional Christmas Concert, which was one of two musical assembly programs, was enjoyed by participants and audience. This year the Choir competed for the first time in the State Choral Contest on March 14. Soloists Mary Campbell, Tanya Swanson, and Debbie Cliver received community recognition for this meaningful experience.

The objectives of the art program were to develop attitudes of perception, curiosity, understanding, and sensitivity through a well-designed art curriculum. The Elk Grove High School art program was one that strove for perfection through a sound learning process. Its instructors endeavored to teach art and the recognition of it as a discipline that educates—a discipline in which student perception is utilized thoroughly to provide an immediate awareness—a contact with reality.

District 214 Executive Board

Under the direction of the District 214 Executive Board, the changes which took place in Elk Grove's curriculum were executed smoothly and without many problems. The Board itself served as the final voice on all decisions made within the district. They tried to make sure that everything decided upon was for the benefit of the students and faculty within each school.

All of the Board members devoted much time and effort to the betterment of our school during the past year. The Board was composed of seven members, all of whom contributed their opinions on what they believed to be the right thing to do.

Before any changes in the school could be made, the Board approved these changes. Revision of the dress code, the new English curriculum, and the beginning of the ungraded math program were all issues that had to be presented to the Board to meet with their approval prior to becoming policy.

Mr. Raymond L. Coleman
Dean of Students

A new addition to the Elk Grove Administrative staff this year is Mr. Raymond Coleman, the new Dean of Students. The purpose of his job is to keep students in line and out of trouble. In future years all will remember the daily morning announcements along with a long roll call of students waiting in line to pay a visit to Mr. Coleman.

Other administrative details were executed by the rest of the staff, consisting of Mr. Robert Haskell, Mr. Charles Aldrich, Mr. Righter Farris, and Mr. Donald Fyfe. These men have attained a position worthy of notice in the school and throughout the district.

The first annual Band Jamboree was held

During the 1969-1970 school year, the 150 members of Marching Band performed the flag-raising ceremony and entertaining half-time shows for all home football games. They also played and did precision marching in the homecoming parade.

The Marching Band is gaining recognition as one of the best bands in the state. This band performed at two professional football games this year. They marched at Soldier's Field on October 18 when the Chicago Owls played against the Arkansas Diamondbacks, and at the Chicago Bears-Detroit Lions game on December 21, at Wrigley Field. Every day the hard-working members of this band practiced for their performances on the football field and the parking lot during the lunches.

The first annual Marching Band Jamboree was held here on November 14. The band played highlights from their half-time shows and previewed the songs they would play at the Chicago Bears game.

Students auditioned to become a member of the Symphonic and Concert Bands. These two bands played at the Winter Band Concert on March 8. It featured outstanding student soloists from these bands. They also entertained the public at the Spring Band Concert on May 8.

The Symphonic Band competed at two band contests during the year. On March 14, they participated in the Illinois State Band Contest and on April 18 they participated in the Solo and Ensemble Contest. Those who competed in this contest were individuals and small groups of players.

All of these bands have brought many honors to themselves and to our school this year. Certainly they deserve to be applauded for their fine and outstanding music.

The Jazz Band won Governor's Trophy

This year the Elk Grove High School Jazz Band was directed by Mr. Peterson. They played both contemporary music and jazz. Required to attend one rehearsal a week, members appeared in many excellent concerts for civic groups, the Booster Club, and other schools. Their special performances included their Spring Concert Tour and several state contests. Highlight was winning the Governor's Trophy at the Illinois State Fair. All members were required to meet minimum performance standards.

During the 1969-1970 school year, the eleven talented girls in the Color Guard did precision marching and original routines to music played by the Marching Band. Led by Captain Karen Stolle, they opened all of the home varsity basketball games with the flag ceremony.

Exchange students made new friends

Jorge Cevallos, our exchange student from Ecuador, jokes with the girls.

During the summer of 1969, seven of our students represented the U.S.A. by traveling to several different countries as foreign exchange students. Bobbie Khun, Karen Doherty, Kathy Knopf, and Steve Becker stayed in Spain to take classes and learn about the Spanish way of life. Marcia Gieringer visited Argentina, Cathy Fecenko traveled to Colombia, Sheilah Bernard went to Venezuela. These students made their homes with their newly "adopted" families in these countries. They learned more of the language and became a part of the customs and traditions of each country.

During the school year, Jorge Cevallos represented his country of Ecuador as he made a temporary home in our country. He resided in Des Plaines at the home of senior Marcia Gieringer.

This year the foreign language clubs were combined to form one general group—Pan Language Club. The foreign language teachers shared in directing the student participation in this year's activities. The purpose of this club was to stimulate cultural interest in all aspects of all the various languages.

The club was led by an executive committee composed of Cindy Schafer, Kathy Gardynski, Lisa LaForge, Mary Lee Mueller, and Chris Beck. This year the club met once a month. Each different language had the responsibility of taking charge of the meeting for one month.

The annual Pan Language Banquet was held on April 23. Students enjoyed foods from different lands and watched an entertaining program after the dinner.

Mrs. Huyck sponsored Chess Club this year. The only requirement was a student's ability to play chess. Members played chess once a week and participated in school tournaments.

Guides served the student body and faculty

Office guides and library guides played a very important part in EGHS. They learned responsibility and reliability by volunteering to work in these service areas.

Office guides, under the direction of Mrs. Norman and Mrs. Little, worked in the attendance, counseling, and main offices helping students and secretaries and delivering passes.

The library guides were sponsored by Mrs. Hurley and led by President Debbie Newhall, Vice-President Jody Blenkle, and Secretary Nita Smith. They helped students and the faculty use the library.

Under the direction of Mr. Walker, members of Art Club learned to perfect their talent in art. During the year they worked on independent student projects and the club's own movie. This club was led by President Janice Meyer, Vice-President Dan Swanger, and Secretary Chris Rabattini.

The Audio-Visual Club enabled male students of Elk Grove to have an opportunity to gain new knowledge in the areas of photography, television, and the repair of equipment. The club was sponsored by Mr. Oswald and the assistant director was Steve Becker. The club helped teachers to use their equipment so their classes could benefit from the use of these machines.

Individual Speech Events consists of individual competition as opposed to group competition. There are different categories for competition, such as original monologue, after-dinner speaking, and serious play reading. This year, Elk Grove's Individual Speech participants again brought many honors and trophies to our school.

Miss Edwards and Mr. Peterson this year sponsored the Debate Team, which participated in tournaments all over District 214. They competed on both the novice and junior varsity level. Members learned the ability to express themselves effectively.

The club went skiing every Wednesday at either Wilmot or Alpine Valley, Wisconsin. To become a member of Ski Club required being a member of the United States Ski Association and school or family insurance.

At their meetings, the members viewed films and had guest speakers and lectures on skiing. They also discussed such interesting topics as safety, skiing tips, and their experiences while skiing.

The members of Ski Team had fun traveling to different skiing areas to test their ability. They also competed with members of other schools by racing them in slalom ski races. To become a member of the Ski Team required having skiing ability for racing and the willingness to participate.

The newly-initiated Aviator's Club was sponsored by Mr. Norwood, who is himself a pilot. The club was led by President John Desmond, Vice-president Greg Michela, Secretary Bill Willis, and Treasurer Joe Laskowski.

All members were required to be at least sixteen years old. The purpose of the club was to help students understand aviation and gain general knowledge of flight procedures. Members received flight instructions and became ground-school qualifying members for FAA written examinations.

The outburst of last year's student interest in school and community affairs prompted an usual number of students to join the newspaper staff. These reporters spent much of their time learning the fundamentals of journalism, tracking down teachers, and writing stories.

Miss Sawicki, the 1969-1970 advisor, kept the reporters toeing the line and helped the editors conquer the problems of putting out a bi-monthly newspaper.

Under the watchful eye of Becke Villars, Editor-in-Chief, were News Editor Wayne Mikos, Editorial Editor Shari Zerebiny, Feature Editor Elaine Texidor, first semester Sports Editor Mark Thompson, second semester Sports Editors Dave Guastaferrri and Jeff McKelvey, Photography and Exchange Editor Carol Kozler, and Advertising Manager Dennis Myhre.

Montage is the account of the year's activities here at Elk Grove High School. It shows the joys, the sorrows, the victories, and the defeats.

To the twenty-one staff members and those who worked during one of the lunches, the yearbook is also a record of all the hard work which went into making the publication accurate and interesting. The yearbook staff met every fourth and fifth hour to spend their time writing endless headings, copy, and captions. They took pictures, cropped them, and then laid out the pages for Montage.

The members could always be seen running around, constantly interviewing teachers, trying to find typewriters which weren't being used, and locating the inevitably lost rulers, pencils, and wheels.

The staff was led in their efforts by Editor Eileen Schmidt and Assistant Editor Kathy Dolby. Mrs. Holt, our faculty advisor, approved pages, answered questions, and solved the many inevitable problems which occurred in producing a yearbook.

Stadium lights turned on Grenad

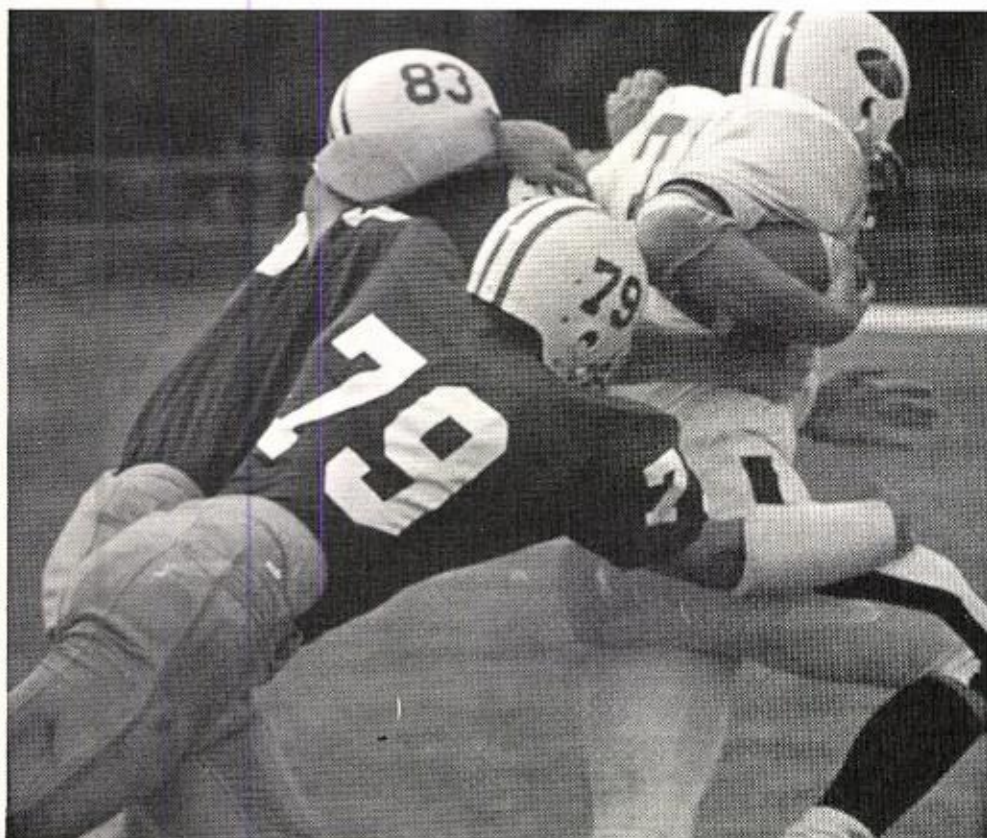

It was the year of the "Luckless Grove." Grenadiers finished their football season with a disappointing 0-8 record; nevertheless, their performance was better than their record. In almost all their games, Elk Grove and their opponents would play to a hard-hitting stalemate. However, a series of freakish plays would transform the game into a heartbreaker for Elk Grove. Elk Grove felt the strain and pressure of their efforts toward the goal of victory. The stamina of our whole team did not go unnoticed. Our opponents realized that we presented quite a challenge. Time after time the coaches of the opposition would remark that Elk Grove was the best unvictorious team that they had ever seen. The remarkable thing about the Grenadiers was that they always managed to smile when the chips were down and gave their opponents a hard-fought battle.

The coaches of this strong-willed team were Mr. Donald Schanke, Mr. Brendon Flynn, and Mr. Britton Farroh. Honors were bestowed upon outstanding individual members of the team. The team captain, named by the players, was Bill Kasallis. Receiving the Sportmanship Award was Rob Kruse, elected to that honor by his teammates. In addition, the Most Valuable Player Award went to Kevin Byrne. Each year a group of boys are nominated by their coach for all-conference honors. An all-conference team is formed by the selection of nominated players from various schools. Elk Grove had one representative on this team, senior end Eugene Pinder. The thrill of victory was not experienced, but the agony of defeat was not expressed. All of Elk Grove High School commands the team for a job well done.

Hey! Elk Grove had a winner

The 1969-70 Gymnastic Season was one of great accomplishments. The varsity gymnasts finished with a 7-2 record, giving them third in the Mid-Suburban League's dual meet season. Added to this impressive record was a first in the district meet and second in conference. It was a season of hard work, but the hard work certainly paid off. For the first time in Elk Grove's history, a gymnastic team went far and was justly rewarded. The crowded gym was always an encouragement to the boys on the team, and this encouragement gave them what they needed to win. Also, 1970 was the first year that Elk Grove hosted a district gymnastics meet.

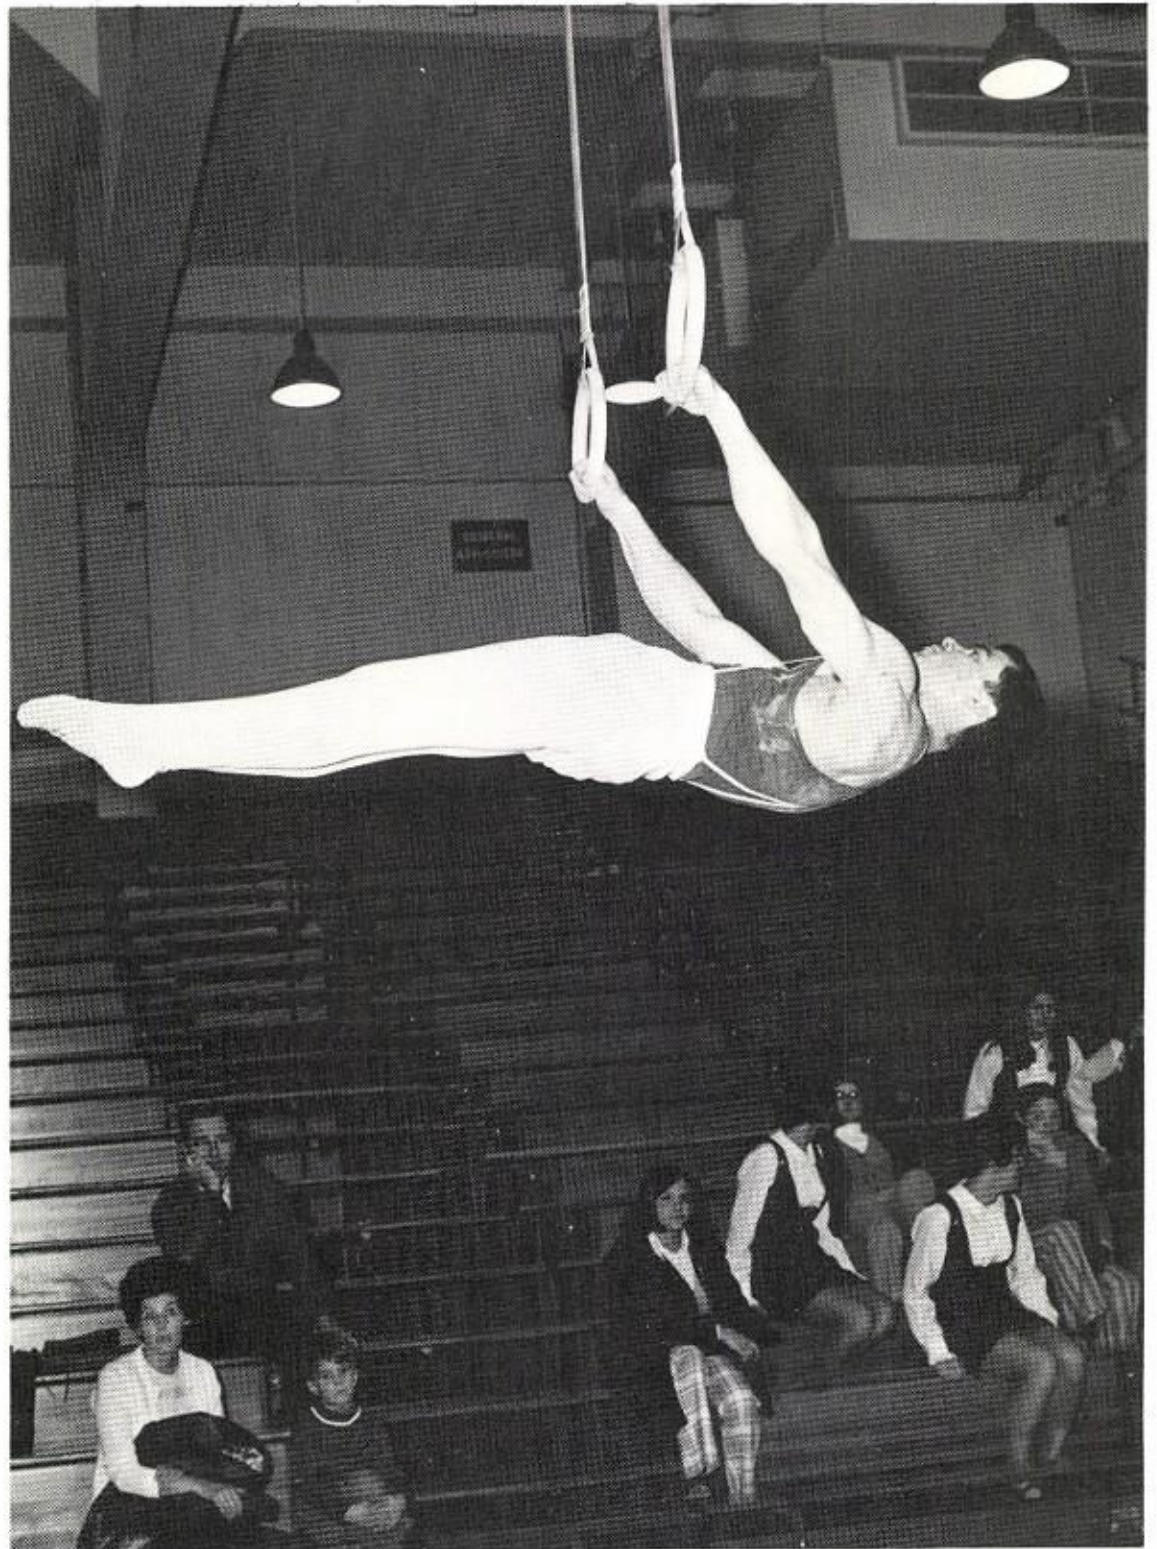

One big reason for the success of this year's gymnastic team was the boys on the varsity squad. Elk Grove's all-around man was Benny Fernandez. This meant that he competed in every event except the tramp. The free exercise mat was dominated by Dale Walter and Dukey Brennan. They both combined tumbling with free flowing movements to give excellent performances. On the side horse, Wayne Olson and Dave Sakata were the top performers. Landy Fernandez and Dave Swensen were the best on the high bar. Charlie Hadley, Dan Stenoin, and Landy Fernandez were the regulars on the parallel bars. Bill Helbig, Al Mitsos, and Neil Dorsey were the trampoline experts. Every minute they were in, the air was filled with suspense. Finally, on the rings were Jack Malmedahl, Landy Fernandez, and Benny Fernandez. All three of these boys brought many honors to Elk Grove for their fine work on a difficult piece of equipment. Looking back, this 69-70 season was the year of the winner.

EG wrestlers demonstrated skill and agility

There was much optimism at the beginning of the wrestling season; but because of injuries and lack of depth in the upper weights, the grapplers finished with a losing season. "We were only out of two meets all year long," said Coach Lovelace. The losses were not indicative of the scores. The forfeit at heavyweight cost the team four dual meets. But the season was not completely bleak. Jerry Ancona, winner of the Grant and Ridgewood Invitationals, finished with a 22-2 record and 2nd in Districts. Jerry, also conference champ, set a new school record for the most pins. Craig Mann finished as all-conference at 107. Junior Ken Siebold finished the season slightly above 5.00. Dennis Byrne finished 4th in conference and districts. Joe Digangi climaxed the season by finishing 3rd in Districts. Jeff Froysland's season came to an end with a 14-2-1 record. Jeff was first in conference and 3rd in Districts at 145. Junior Bob Webb's honors included being 155 champion in the Grant Invitational. The JV team, coached by Mr. Coleman, finished the season with a 4-5 conference record. The Soph team under the leadership of Mr. DeBolt finished 1-8 in conference competition. The Freshmen probably had the strongest balance of any team. Mr. Farroh's Frosh finished 3rd in the conference competition and should provide the varsity with some assistance.

EG's swimmers placed third in conference

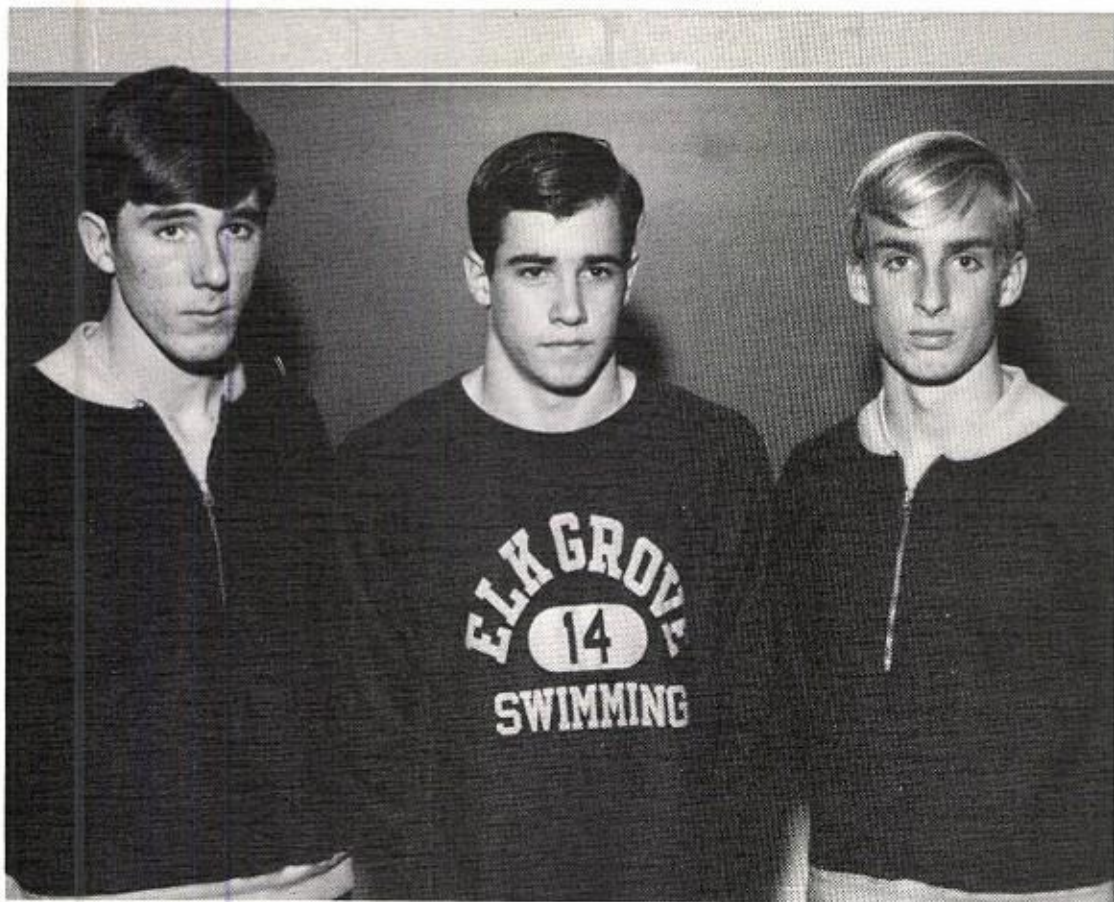

This year was one of firsts for EG's varsity swim team. It began in the spring of '68-'69 when the team was able to use Lively pool for practice and meets. In the fall of '69-'70, swimming gained full recognition as a conference sport for the first time. In December, '69, the Tankers held the first of nine home meets. More firsts were hosting the first Annual MSL Swimming and Diving Championship Meet and closing the season with a 7-7 record.

Accomplishments also colored the year. The varsity team, including two freshmen, Lou Clarizio and Rich Martinck, broke 8 of 11 existing school records in both the 50 and 100 yard freestyle. Cliff Schlak broke records in the 200 and 400 yard freestyle, and Dave Toler set records in the 200 yard backstroke. Pat Dunning broke the school record in diving by scoring 212.6. The varsity team, though still young, is looking toward the future.

We are the Grenadiers! This is one of the many cheers led by Elk Grove's 1969-1970 cheerleaders. Throughout the year, three enthusiastic and vivacious squads attended sports events and took an active part in such things as Homecoming, the Fun Nights, ticket sales, and publicity for school activities. Under the direction of Mrs. Kathleen Forester, the girls established well-organized and successful cheerleading squads. As in years before, the cheerleaders had the added responsibility of organizing and presenting pep assemblies during which such highlights as ridiculously funny pep skits, spirit-building talks given by both team captains and coaches, and cheers entertained the students.

Spirited Orchesis also has given Elk Grove's talented girls the opportunity to express themselves through dance and taught them to incorporate ideas with those of others. Mrs. Walker is the Sponsor, Sandra Dukewich, President; Quincey Lowing, Vice-President; Cheryl Rizzo, Secretary; Kathy Meyer, Treasurer, and Dawn Nitschneider, Historian. The girls must be at least a sophomore; maintain a "C" average; and, of course, be talented in the art of dance. During the year the girls choreographed, taught, and perfected dances which they used. They also raised money by having various sales, such as taffy apples and carnations for St. Patrick's Day, and putting on their annual show. Members participated in Homecoming and visited other schools where they performed for the enjoyment of the audience.

Student Life

"Cherish" was the word used to describe the Elk Grove Junior-Senior Prom, which took place on the evening of May 23, 1969. The Junior class sponsored our school's third annual spring formal. As the couples entered the ballroom of the Chevy Chase Country Club, they were received by the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haskell, Mr. and Mrs. Righter Farris, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fyfe, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aldrich.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of King Chris Gruber and Queen Cindy Andre. Barb Darge, Tom Klemens, Jacque Rohrs, Pat Texidor, Nancy Whiting, Bill Martin, Jodi Knudson, and Tom Neri were the members of their court. The pink and white heart, which silhouetted the king and queen and their court, set the mood for the coronation.

Henry Butell and his orchestra played the soft, flowing music for the formal.

This night now is a part of the treasured memories we will "Cherish" forever deep in our hearts.

Chaos abounds in the harmonious atmosphere of graduation.

The second commencement of Elk Grove High School took place on Thursday, June 12, in the gymnasium at 8:00 P.M. The gym was filled to capacity as the class of 1969 made their final appearance as Grenadiers. The graduates marched in to the triumphal march from Aida.

The ceremony began with the invocation by the Rev. Mr. David D. Crail, followed by selections by the Elk Grove High School Choir. Dr. Robert E. Lahti, President, Wm. Rainey Harper Jr. College, gave the address to the class. He was introduced by Tom Neri, president of the class of 1969. Mr. Robert Haskell, principal, introduced the class of 1969. Mrs. Leah D. Cummins gave the response.

Mrs. Leah Cummins, Secretary, Board of Education, and Dr. Robert G. Weber, Assistant Superintendent, High School District 214, presented the diplomas to the four hundred and twelve members of the graduating class. National Honor Society members were distinguished by gold tassels, while the remainder of the class wore green and gold. Honored students were valedictorians Silvio Camodeca and Kathleen Spas and salutatorians Barbara Darge and Deborah Spector. The alumni of Elk Grove High School then exited to the recessional, "Pomp and Circumstance."

Queen Cathy Ellery was crowned by the 1968 Homecoming Queen Mary Shea as her court Denise Augustine, Lynn Leopardo, Carol Maier, and Pat Paleczny looked on. Chosen as escorts were Jim Camp-house, Ron Fink, John Flesch, Denny Rambo, and Bill Tews. Freshman pages were Anjenette Serges and Gary Lundeen.

A festive parade, in which many of Elk Grove's clubs and organizations were represented, began the Homecoming weekend. The Queen's float, decorated cars, and performances by the Pom-Pon squad, Leaders, Orchesis, and the band were highlights of the parade. Following the parade was a bonfire and mixer. The evening's fun started when Homecoming Queen Cathy Ellery lighted the huge bonfire. Then the cheerleaders shouted their cheers and the seniors performed a skit to arouse spirit for the next day's game. Students proceeded into the gym to dance and be entertained by the music of "Charisma." Many alumni were seen joining the students at the celebration.

Saturday of Homecoming weekend was a day packed with excitement, challenges, and thrills for all present. The Homecoming games, which were played against Fremd, resulted in several victories for Elk Grove. La Fete was a memorable display of the fun and pageantry which make up Homecoming weekend.

Our Junior Varsity football team, the sophomore team, and both freshman teams began the day with victories. Down by thirteen points in the last quarter, our Varsity team scored a touchdown in the closing minutes. We regained possession of the ball and had another opportunity to score. Unfortunately, the most exciting game of the season ended in a disappointment for Elk Grove.

Between the games, Queen Cathy Ellery and her court were presented. Then the crowd was treated to performances by the band, Orchestis, and the Pom-Pon squad.

La Fete, the annual semi-formal dance, which was sponsored by the Letterman's club, began at 8:00. Couples sat at candlelit tables, talked with fellow students and alumni, and danced to the music of the "Velvet Glove." Memories of the dance and the game are sure to linger in the hearts of all true Grenadiers.

The 1969-70 Variety Show, November 21-23, was nothing less than great. The first three-night show in EGHS history sold out Friday and Saturday nights, and Sunday afternoon was almost sold out. The show was again ably directed by Mr. Ronald Raben, this time with the help of student directors Sue Ingersoll and Wayne Mikos.

Laura Conter, Debbie Khoshaba, Gabrielle Powers, and many others shone in their performances. These outstanding singers, dancers, and musicians comprised the talent part of the show. The continuity cast, Bob Vokoun, Kathy Tansey, Nancy Long, Linda Guastaferrri, Tom Fox, and Jim Dean, did varied bits of humor. A soap opera, door signs, and quickies were all part of the entertainment.

Another highlight of the show was the older entertainers, who were very funny and talented. They were Mr. Prendergast, Miss Anderson, Mr. Aldrich, Miss Loufek, Miss Edwards, and Mr. David.

“...Up, Up and Away...” In the Would-Land of Weir

On March 28 and 29, 1969 Orchesis, under the direction of Mrs. Lorie Walker, presented In the Would-Land of Weir. The production was set in a dreamworld. Use of wildly colored lights appropriately carried out the theme, which concerned the hopes and expectations of an adolescent female. In her youth the girl played with dolls and was awed by the sights and sounds of a circus. As time progressed she matured; her toys were discarded, and in their place grew an interest in adventure—travel to foreign lands. Her first attempt at finding true love was unsuccessful. She was disillusioned by the charms of her male friend. Eventually she met the perfect gentleman and finally realized that “Love is a Many Splendored Thing.” An added attraction that highlighted the show was the rhythmic performance of the Adagio members.

The scene was set for romance and excitement as the winter ball, "Frosted Fantasy," began. During the evening, the students gathered in groups to talk or strolled with their dates. They admired the gym which had been transformed into a sparkling, shimmering winter wonderland.

The excitement of the evening reached its peak when Donna Sronkoski was chosen as the queen. Annette Serges, Karen Prisliger, Maureen Drysch, and Sue Swanson were selected as princesses. The Queen's Dance, which began with Donna and her date, soon included almost the entire crowd. Elk Grove High School, you are my school;
Let me sing your praise
For the memories, how I cherish these today.
How they linger and grow
As through the years of work and pleasure,
Friendships here beyond measure;
Grenadiers, through our joys and tears we'll be.
By the forest decked in all its splendor,
Day would end ere all our work was through.
Halls of learning, hearts are yearning,
As we think of you.
For Elk Grove High School, you are my school;
Let me sing your praise
For the memories, how I cherish these today.
